

ScottCares Foundation
2511 Neudorf Road • Building 8, Suite B
Clemmons, North Carolina 27012
www.scottcaresnc.org

News Release

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

July 25, 2007

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT:

Tonya Raleigh
(336) 766-4111 - phone
(336) 499-9659 - fax
info@scottcaresnc.org

ScottCares Foundation Plays Ball4Real!

Charlotte, NC – The ScottCares Foundation, a 501(c)(3) organization that aims to teach and promote computer literacy to young people and provide financial assistance to needing students, sponsored a trip to Charlotte to witness some of the best Street ball basketball from local and national celebrities, hosted by Ball4Real and Mountain Due. ScottCares traveled with two local youth based organizations, Knights of Pythagoras & Sigma Beta Club. Brothers of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity and Prince Hall F&AM, Olympic Lodge #795 help chaperone the young men.

Ball4Real host a 20+-city tour throughout the USA and a 10+-country tour abroad. The purpose of the tours is to teach, educate and entertain. “I explained to the young men, with freedom comes responsibility. Your friends who did not make this trip will read your experience, because you will write a paragraph explaining what you saw and what you did”, says Scott Abdul-Salaam, president of the foundation. “We want to continuously provide opportunity for OUR children. No matter what color, religion or class you belong to, ScottCares recognizes the responsibility we have to assist our young/ future!”

ScottCares Foundation would like to thank Mike Morak and the Ball4Real Players for making our trip to Charlotte enjoyable and memorable. For more info: www.ball4real.com End